Twitchy is back! He is in Australia in March from Vancouver and offered to speak for TSAA again. Please come along and enjoy an inspirational event—All ages welcome.

Stuart Ellis-Myers is a dramatic model of self-inspiration and determination. When he speaks of improving lives, he speaks from personal experience. Since the age of nine (9) Stuart has "suffered" from Tourettes Syndrome. Despite this handicap, Stuart has become an internationally known and respected speaker on communication leadership, sales and customer relationship management practices that yield measurable results.

How did he do it? Stuart overcame his hardship by studying the universal laws of the mind. He learned how to test and immediately apply usable life principles to his own growth and also how to share them with others for their benefit.

He shares with his listeners the practical techniques that have helped him turn his own life into a success story and looks forward to helping his audience members achieve their own dreams. With an unprecedented success record of rave reviews from around the world, he is a favourite at conventions and corporate meetings.

Twitchy has donated his time to TSAA while in Australia to present to the Australian community affected by TS.
